

The Electric Vehicle Charging Association is pleased to invite you to a webinar, jointly hosted by California Division of the State Architect, to explain and answer your questions recently-adopted regulations addressing access for the disabled at EV charging stations.

This webinar is designed to provide clarity to site hosts working to comply with ADA requirements. The webinar will be presented by Deputy State Architect, Dennis Corelis, who will discuss current regulations and recently adopted regulations that will govern new installations, modifications, scoping, designation requirements, path of travel upgrades, unreasonable hardships, as well as provide an overview of the EVCS regulation timeline to comply with the new regulations.

There will also be a segment dedicated on sample models and for Dennis Corelis to answer any questions that you may have concerning your specific project.
